

Teaching Self-Reflection

Identify positive aspects of your teaching!	Always	Sometimes	Rarely/Never
1. Subject Matter
a. I use appropriate subject matter
b. I present subject matter in an interesting and effective way
c. I use variety in:
i. Body Parts
ii. Space
iii. Time
iv. Energy
2. Presenting Subject Matter
a. I connect with the children in a meaningful way.
b. I use variety in tone and quality in my voice.
c. The music I select and use has variety and supports my chosen subject material.
d. I give directives and expectations with confidence.
e. I detect non-verbal signals from children (knowing when children are off-task, disconnected, out of control, etc.), respond to them, and act on them effectively.
3. Responding
a. I detect indications of how children feel (happy, bored, etc.) and respond to them.
b. I respond effectively to ideas children offer.
c. I notice and respond to each child at some point in the session.
d. I bring energy, excitement and a sense of magic to the lesson.			